New Art Directory

The new 1984-85 edition of the "Directory of Visual Art Organizations in N.J." is ready for distribution this month.

The only publication of its kind in the state, the directory lists art organizations by county, regional and county Arts Councils, County cultural and Heritage Commissions, museums, colleges, craft groups, publications and more.

This edition was made possible by a grant from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts and the National Endowment for the Arts. The printing was done by Schering-Plough Corp., and the cover stock donated by Georgia Pacific Corp., according to Jane Whipple Green, editor, and director of the Federated Art Associations of New Jersey, publisher of the directory.

"If a man could have half his wishes he would double his trouble."

Support Fund

members of the 1984 campaign cabinet wish to stress that the dollars given to the United Fund of Westfield stay in Westfield... straight through to local agencies and not somewhere else.

Frank MacPherson is not a newcomer to the United Fund. Having worked in previous campaigns, he is a member of the United Fund board of trustees as well as the budget review committee. He has served as a member of the Town Council and as president of both the Y's Men's Club and the Westfield Jaycees. A graduate of Worcester Polytechnic Institute, he has lived in Westfield for the past 28 years with his wife Margaret and their three children, Susan, Jane and Carol.

Susan Arnold was a retail division captain in the successful 1982 United Fund appeal. She has served as a delegate to the Parent-Teacher Council as well as a past president, and has been a member of both Edison Junior High and Tamaques School PTO boards. She is also a past president of the Tamaques School PTO. Mrs. Arnold has been a resident of Westfield for ten years and lives with her husband, Manfred and their two girls, Heidi and Kirsten.

Susan Pepper, also a veteran of past United Fund appeals, graduated with a B.A. from Carnegie-Mellon University, earning her master's degree in education at Duquesne University in 1972. Residing in Westfield for the past ten years, she lives with her husband, Max, and two children, Eric and Lauren, on Sunset Ave. A current member of the Wilson School PTA, serving in the capacity of vice-president, Pepper is, in addition, a Parent-Teacher Council delegate, chairperson of the school community information program at Wilson School, and a member of the Women's American ORT.

Health Day

Labs, Inc. This must be followed up by a telephone call to 232-8000, Ext. #34 for appointment time. No refunds will be given for no shows. Registration deadline is Oct. 10.

The health program will also offer blood pressure screening and counselling by Public Health nurses from the Visiting Nurse and Health Services Agency. A health education program on breast self-examination will also be offered by Nancy Sullivan, health educator with the Visiting Nurse and Health Services.

Hemmoctest kits will also be available to test for occult blood in the gastro-intestinal tract. This is a simple at home procedure, which tests for the presence of fecal blood. Test packets and dietary restrictions will be given out at the Health Fair. Attendees are asked not to take these tests unless they plan to use them and return the results to the office as they are very expensive.

The Westfield Board of Health invites residents to participate in the health program being offered. Further information may be obtained by contacting the Health Department at the Municipal Building.
